Manhattan, New York

The economic, environmental and social costs of global warming are inescapably clear and breathtakingly serious. The G8 meeting in Japan is poised to neglect all short, medium and adequate long-term targets for CO₂ control. The latest science tells us the G8's action needs to be far greater and far more urgent. All the G8 are set to deliver is yet more talk. We are running out of time. The G8 must act.

NO ENVIRONMENT = NO ECONOMY. PERIOD.

ACTION - Be heard by the G8.
