An exclusive range fighting for survival.

One in ten supermarket products contain palm oil. But palm oil plantations are destroying priceless rainforest in Borneo and Sumatra, the only home of the orang-utan. They are on the brink of extinction. 5,000 orang-utans are killed every year. In just 12 years, they could be gone forever.

British supermarkets have been asked to join the Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil, to help protect the orang-utans' habitat.

Morrisons have refused.

DON'T LET MORRISONS GET AWAY WITH MURDER.

demand action

Tell Sir Ken Morrison to stop monkeying around and join the Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil, to make sure his products aren't stained with the blood of dead orang-utans.
